Charlotte's wall reliefs are a harmonious dance of form and rhythm, creating a balanced yet energizing aesthetic with clean lines and simple patterns. Using a refined colour palette and gradients, her artworks, created with hundreds of wafer-thin airplane plywood elements, play beautifully with shadow and light.

Charlotte Burgmans (NL) attended art classes before she even could write. Since then, art has been part of her life. She is a multidisciplinary artist, creating artworks with various materials and techniques. Charlotte has lived in several countries, but her move to the United States in 2003 significantly boosted her art career. She attended master classes in painting, ceramics, and printmaking at Saddleback College (Mission Viejo, CA) and successfully participated in so-called juried shows in California, Texas, NY, etc. Her first solo exhibition, featuring abstract paintings, took place in October 2004 in San Clemente CA. Her art works were also shown in Movies and TV series such as 'The real housewives of Orange County'. Charlotte's art style has evolved, which eventually led to the wall reliefs based on geometric patterns and elements of airplane plywood, clay and paper. Her first wall relief was awarded 3rd Prize in the Juried Exhibition 2018 of Laguna Beach (CA). Charlotte has spent much of her career in California. Currently she works from her studio in Hilversum. Her work is showcased internationally and collected in corporate and private collections
